What goes into each MiCoBio UBrain capsule?

MiCoBio UBrain's primary ingredient is a proprietary blend of rare tropical herbs found deep in the rainforest. After these herbs replenish vital nutrients in your brain that are naturally lost over-time due to stress, ageing, disease and oxidation. In replenishing these missing your brain, it is possible to avoid these deficiencies. The benefits are further compounded by the herbs ability to maintain blood flow to your brain and ensure healthy dopamine and serotonin supply that otherwise naturally deteriorates with age.

Years of research, testing and planning

From 2020 to 2023, scientists from The Biolabs Pte. Ltd. collaborated with scientists from Nanyang Technological University (NTU) to conduct laboratory research in cell culture dishes and animal models to study the neuroprotective effects of our unique natural tropical herbal extract.

After formulating the unique MiCoBio UBrain blend, the raw herbs are cultivated in a dedicated farm deep the rainforest where they would naturally grow and where it can be ensured that each plant would be 100% naturally grown.

The result? A UBrain product where we can guarantee the highest quality and efficacy possible.
